FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 2022

Too Human

Join us for a spirited evening as Too Human presents jazz standards from the Great American Songbook. Performed with vocals, guitar, percussion and upright bass with passion, innovation and humor, the songs and arrangements are fresh — and are sure to touch your spirit!

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2022

VOCE Quartet

VOCE is a New England-based a cappella and barbershop quartet with more than 75 years of singing experience among the four. Formed in 2014, VOCE has competed internationally, placing sixth in the world in 2019. They sing a wide variety of music and truly enjoy performing for an audience.

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 2022

Banish Misfortune

This six-member band performs traditional music from Ireland — rousing sets of hornpipes, reels, jigs, waltzes, slides, polkas and airs, as well as the occasional inspired song or accompanied Irish poem, with instrumentation including fiddle, concertina, flute, mandolin, accordion, and guitar.

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 2022

Jose Gonzalez – Criollo Classico Trio

One of the most distinguished and versatile music ensembles from Puerto Rico, who have performed hundreds of concerts highlighting Latin, Jazz, Spanish, Brazilian, Smooth Jazz, World, Pop, Classical, and Caribbean music.

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 2022

Rick Spencer & Dawn Indermuehle 1960S AMERICAN POP: SONGS FROM THE BRILL BUILDING

Much of the American Popular Music industry was centered around the Brill Building at 1619 Broadway, NYC, home to composers, lyricists, recording studios, performers, and publishers responsible for some of the most memorable pop music ever created. This program presents the music of songwriters connected in some way to the Brill Building.

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 2022

The Argiro Quintet

While the Argiro Quintet instrumentally mirrors the famous George Shearing Quintet, its musical approach is much more adventurous, creating a unique sound on lively versions of standards and intricately woven originals; its five musicians creating a cohesion of musical influences and personalities that underpins every performance.
